TRANSITIONING FROM COMPETITION, READY FOR CAREER AND COLLABORATION

As a Division I hockey player, Colin competed for both Notre Dame and Arizona State, serving as team captain at each program, winning two Big Ten Championships, and earning recognition as an Academic All-Big Ten recipient and AHCA All-American Scholar.

Following his collegiate career, Colin played four years of professional hockey, further refining his resilience, leadership, and ability to perform under pressure. Now transitioning from athletics, Colin is seeking opportunities in investment banking, corporate finance, or consulting, fields where he can apply his strong analytical mindset, competitive drive, and collaborative approach.
